MEDIA RELATIONS POLICY

The National Reconnaissance Office (NRO), Business Plans and Operations Directorate, Office of Strategic Communications-Office of Corporate Communications (OSC-OCC) is the focal point for all NRO contacts with media representatives, whether official or unofficial, except for media requests made to the NRO under provisions of the Freedom of Information Act. Only the Director, NRO (DNRO); Principal Deputy Director, NRO; Deputy Director, NRO; and Director, OSC-OCC are authorized to respond to media queries directly or to delegate this authority to other NRO personnel.

The Director, OSC-OCC is the principal spokesperson for the DNRO and the NRO and is responsible for the NRO's communications and relations with the news media and other media, such as the publication, television, documentary, and entertainment industries. OSC-OCC is the entry point and the single point of contact for all media requests for interview or information.

Personnel assigned to the NRO who are contacted directly by the media should not answer media questions or offer information. Refer media contacts to OSC-OCC, on 703-808-5050.
